

SECTION I - SENTENCING GUIDELINES

This section explains the rules for applying the sentencing guidelines to felony crimes committed after June 30, 1984, including changes enacted by the 1999 regular session of the Legislature. The instructions cover the following:

- Offense Seriousness Level
- Offender Score
- Standard Sentence Range
- Sentencing Options
- Review of Sentences
- Penalty and Modification Hearing
- Discharge and Vacation of Conviction Record

STEP 1 - DETERMINING THE OFFENSE SERIOUSNESS LEVEL

The offense of conviction determines the offense seriousness level. For example, if an offender was charged with Second Degree Robbery but pleaded guilty or was tried and convicted of First Degree Theft, the seriousness level is determined by the First Degree Theft conviction.

The seriousness level is measured on the vertical axis of the sentencing guidelines grid (See Table 1, page I-2). RCW 9.94A.320 lists the crimes included within each seriousness level (Table 2, page I-3). Felony offenses are divided into 16 levels of seriousness, ranging from low (Level I) to high (Level XVI). Offenses at the same level are considered equivalent in seriousness.

The 1990 Legislature amended the sentencing grid for the first time, adding a new seriousness level and changing the penalties for Level XI. The 1997 Legislature changed the standard ranges at Level XIII. The 1999 Legislature subsequently restored the original standard ranges in Level XIII and modified the standard ranges in Level XIV. Crimes committed between July 27, 1997 and July 24, 1999 should be scored according to the 1997 sentencing grid, and crimes committed on or after July 25, 1999 should be scored according to the 1999 sentencing grid. This edition of the Manual includes the 1999 and 1997 grids (See Table 1, page I-2) and also previous versions of the grid (Appendix D).

Some felonies rarely charged or recently created by the Legislature are “unranked” and are not included in the Seriousness Level table and do not have a standard sentence range; thus, no sentence calculations are necessary for these unranked crimes. The sentencing options for unranked felonies are described on page I-20.

STEP 2 - DETERMINING THE OFFENDER SCORE

The offender score is measured on the horizontal axis of the sentencing guidelines grid. An offender may receive anywhere from 0 to 9+ points on that axis. In general terms, the number of points an offender receives depends on five factors: (1) the number of prior felony criminal convictions; (2) the relationship between any prior offense(s) and the current offense of conviction; (3) the presence of multiple prior or current convictions; (4) whether the crime was committed while the offender was on community placement; and (5) the period of crime-free behavior between offenses.

The following discussion deals with the calculation of the offender score, including how to collect criminal history, how to score history, how to score multiple current convictions and how to score the offender's status.

CRIMINAL HISTORY COLLECTION

RCW 9.94A.030(13) defines criminal history to include the defendant's prior adult convictions in this state, in federal court and elsewhere, as well as dispositions in juvenile court. Some rules on criminal history refer to the felony class of the crime (Class A, Class B or Class C). Appendix B contains a list of felony offenses by class and an explanation of how to determine the class of a felony.

Adult Criminal History

The Criminal Justice Information Act (RCW 10.98) established the Washington State Patrol Identification and Criminal History Section as the primary source of information on state felony conviction histories. After filing charges, prosecutors contact the Section for an offender's Washington criminal history. The Act directs judges to ensure that the felony defendant has been fingerprinted and an arrest and fingerprint form has been transmitted to the Washington State Patrol (RCW 10.98.050(2)). For out-of-state or federal criminal history information, prosecutors need to contact the Federal Bureau of Investigation for referral to the appropriate sources.

An offender's criminal history consists almost exclusively of felony convictions. With one exception, misdemeanors are not calculated into the offender score. The exception is current convictions of felony traffic offenses¹, where serious traffic offenses² are included in the offender score. Offenders who have participated in a program of deferred prosecution for a felony offense do not meet the definition of a First-time Offender under RCW 9.94A.030(23). Information about deferred prosecution, if it is available, is likely to be available only through county records.

² RCW 9.94A.030(33) provides: "Serious traffic offense" means: (a) Driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug (RCW 46.61.502), actual physical control while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug (RCW 46.61.504), reckless driving (RCW 46.61.500), or hit-and-run an attended vehicle (RCW 46.52.020(5)); or (b) Any federal, out-of-state, county, or municipal conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be classified as a serious traffic offense under (a) of this subsection.

A conviction is defined as a verdict of guilty, a finding of guilty or an acceptance of a plea of guilty. A prior conviction is defined as one existing before the date of the sentencing for the offense for which the offender score is being computed. Convictions entered or sentenced on the same date as the conviction for which the offender score is being computed are deemed "other current offenses" within the meaning of RCW 9.94A.400.

Convictions with a finding of sexual motivation should also be noted. A finding of sexual motivation changes the underlying offense to a sex offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(36), changing the scoring rules and influencing the sentence options. This finding is possible only for crimes committed on or after July 1, 1990. (See RCW 9.94A.360(16))

Prior convictions for felony anticipatory offenses (criminal attempt, solicitation or conspiracy) are scored as if they were convictions for completed offenses. If the present conviction is an anticipatory offense, each prior conviction counts the same as if the present conviction were a completed offense.

RCW 9.94A.030 stipulates that when it is known, criminal history for a defendant shall include the length and terms of any probation as well as whether the defendant has been incarcerated and the length of incarceration. This information is often collected as part of the Pre-sentence Investigation Report.

The 1997 Legislature changed how juvenile criminal history is to be calculated. All prior adult felony and juvenile convictions are counted separately, except:

- Prior adult and juvenile offenses found, under RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a), to encompass the same criminal conduct. These are to be counted as one offense, the offense that yields the highest offender score.
- Multiple prior convictions for offenses committed before July 1, 1986 (See 9.94A.360(5)(a)(ii)). All adult convictions served concurrently score as one offense, and juvenile convictions entered on the same day score as one offense.

Juvenile Criminal History

All felony dispositions in juvenile court must be counted as criminal history for purposes of adult sentencing, except under the general "wash-out" provisions that apply to adult offenses. Juvenile offenses sentenced on the same day must be counted separately unless they constitute the "same criminal conduct" as defined in RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a).

RCW 13.50.050(9) provides that after a charge has been filed, juvenile offense records of an adult criminal defendant or witness in an adult criminal proceeding shall be released upon request to the prosecution and defense counsel, subject to the rules of discovery. RCW 13.50.050(15) provides that any charging of an adult felony nullifies the sealing of a juvenile record.

"Wash Out" of Certain Prior Felonies

In certain instances, prior adult felony or juvenile convictions are not calculated into the offender score. The rules regarding which prior convictions are included can be found in RCW 9.94A.360(2) and are summarized as follows:

- Prior Class A and sex felony convictions are always included in the offender score.
- Prior Class B (juvenile or adult) felony convictions other than sex offenses are not included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or since the entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent ten consecutive years in the community without having been convicted of any crime.
- Prior Class C (juvenile or adult) felony convictions other than sex offenses are not included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or since the entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent five consecutive years in the community without having been convicted of any crime.
- Prior (juvenile or adult) serious traffic convictions are not included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or since the entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent five years in the community without having been convicted of any crime.

The Sentencing Reform Act allows the record of conviction to be vacated under certain conditions. RCW 9.94A.230 provides that vacated convictions "shall not be included in the offender's criminal history for purposes of determining a sentence in any subsequent conviction." Vacation of conviction record does not affect or prevent the use of an offender's prior conviction in a later criminal prosecution.

The eligibility rules for vacation of conviction record are similar to the "wash-out" rules. Because the wash-out rules are automatic and do not require court action, an offense will "wash out" before formal record vacation occurs. (The main distinction between vacation of record of conviction and "wash-out" is that, after vacation, an offender may indicate on employment forms that he or she was not convicted of that crime.)

Federal, Out-of-state or Foreign Convictions

For a prior federal, out-of-state or foreign conviction, the elements of the offense in other jurisdictions must be compared with Washington State laws to determine how to score the offense (RCW 9.94A.360(3)). If there is no clearly comparable offense under Washington State law, or if the offense is one that is usually considered subject to exclusive federal jurisdiction, the offense is scored as a Class C felony equivalent if it was a felony under the relevant federal statute. Judicial decisions on the comparability of non-Washington convictions occur at the sentencing hearing.

SCORING CRIMINAL HISTORY

Once the relevant prior convictions have been identified, the criminal history portion of the offender score may be calculated. The rules for scoring prior convictions are contained in RCW 9.94A.360. To make application of these rules easier, the offense reference sheets and scoring forms found in Section III of this Manual indicate the correct number of points for each prior conviction depending on the current offense. To use these forms correctly, an understanding of the criminal history rules is necessary. For example, the forms do not repeat the "wash-out" rules. The scoring rules for violent, drug or sex offenses deserve special attention because of the increased points for certain prior offenses.

Scoring Drug Offenses³

The 1989 Legislature amended the scoring rules for drug offenses committed on or after July 23, 1989. Adult prior and other current drug offenses included in the offender score with a current drug offense count as three points each, and juvenile prior drug offenses count as two points each (9.94A.360(12)).

Scoring Sex Offenses⁴

A felony sex offense committed on or after July 1, 1990, also has special scoring rules. Sex offenses included in the offender score with a current sex offense count as three points each (RCW 9.94A.360(16)).

SCORING MULTIPLE CURRENT CONVICTIONS

Multiple convictions may also influence the offender score. For multiple current offenses, separate sentence calculations are necessary for each offense because the law requires that each receive a separate sentence (RCW 9.94A.400), unless the offenses are ruled the same criminal conduct (RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a)).

³ RCW 9.94A.030(19) provides: "'Drug offense' means: (a) Any felony violation of Chapter 69.50 RCW except possession of a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.401(d)) or forged prescription for a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.403); (b) Any offense defined as a felony under federal law that relates to the possession, manufacture, distribution, or transportation of a controlled substance; or (c) Any out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a drug offense under (a) of this section."

Note that "Delivery of a Material in Lieu of a Controlled Substance" (RCW 69.50.401(c)) is defined as a drug offense; whereas, "Manufacture, Distribute, or Possess with Intent to Distribute an Imitation Controlled Substance (RCW 69.52.030(1)) is not.

⁴ RCW 9.94A.030(36) provides: "'Sex offense' means: (a) A felony that is a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW, other than RCW 9A.44.130(10), or RCW 9A.64.020 or 9.68A.090 or a felony that is, under chapter 9A.28 RCW, a criminal attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit such crimes; (b) Any conviction for a felony offense in effect at any time prior to July 1, 1976, that is comparable to a felony classified as a sex offense in (a) of this subsection; (c) A felony with a finding of sexual motivation under RCW 9.94A.127 or 13.40.135; (d) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a sex offense under (a) of this subsection."

Multiple Offense Scoring Steps:

- (A) If the current offenses do not include two or more serious violent offenses⁵ arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct, apply RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a):
- Calculate the score for each offense.
 - For each offense, score the prior adult and juvenile convictions. Also, score the other current offenses on the scoring form line entitled "Other Current Offenses."
 - The court may find that some or all of the current offenses encompass the same criminal conduct⁶ and are to be counted as one crime.
 - In cases of Vehicular Homicide or Vehicular Assault with multiple victims, offenses against each victim may be charged as separate offenses, even if the victims occupied the same vehicle. The resulting multiple convictions need not be scored as constituting the same criminal conduct.
 - Convictions entered or sentenced on the same date as the conviction for which the offender score is being computed are scored as "other current offenses" (See RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a)).
- (B) If the current offenses include two or more serious violent offenses arising from separate and distinct conduct, apply RCW 9.94A.400(1)(b):
- Calculate the score for each offense.
 - Identify the serious violent offense with the highest seriousness level. Calculate the sentence for that crime using the offender's prior adult and juvenile convictions. Do not include any other current serious violent offenses as part of the offender score, but do include other current offenses that are not serious violent offenses.
 - Score all remaining serious violent current offenses, calculating the sentence for the crime using an offender score of zero.
 - For any current offenses that are not serious violent offenses, score according to the rules in (A) above.
- (C) If the current offenses include Unlawful Possession of a Firearm in the First or Second Degree and one or both of the felony crimes of Theft of a Firearm or Possession of a Stolen Firearm, score according to the rules in RCW 9.94A.400(1)(c).

⁶ RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a) provides: "...`Same criminal conduct'... means...two or more crimes that require the same criminal intent, are committed at the same time and place, and involve the same victim." Cases involving vehicular homicide or vehicular assault need not be considered same criminal conduct.

Example: An offender was convicted of one count of First Degree Theft and one count of Forgery. Both offenses arose from separate and distinct criminal conduct. The criminal history consisted of one conviction for Second Degree Burglary. In this case, the rules in RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a) apply, and the theft and forgery must be separately scored. The prior burglary and the current forgery are included in the offender score for the theft, resulting in an offender score of two and a sentence range of three to nine months. The prior burglary and the current theft are included in the offender score for the forgery, resulting in an offender score of two and a sentence range of two to five months. The sentence for each offense would run concurrently.

Example: An offender was convicted of one count of Second Degree Theft and one count of Second Degree Possession of Stolen Property. The court found that both counts encompassed the same criminal conduct, and the offender had no criminal history. In this case, the other current offense is not counted in the offender score because RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a) stipulates that if some or all of the current offenses are found to encompass the same criminal conduct, those current offenses shall be counted as one crime. Therefore, the theft and possession would both be scored with offender scores of zero, with a sentence range for each crime of 0 to 60 days. The sentence for each offense would run concurrently.

Example: An offender was convicted of two counts of First Degree Kidnapping and one count of First Degree Assault. These offenses, all serious violent, arose from separate and distinct criminal conduct. The offender's criminal history consisted of one Third Degree Assault conviction. The scoring for this offender follows the rules in RCW 9.94A.400(1)(b). First, the crime with the highest seriousness level must be identified and scored. Since First Degree Assault is more serious (Level XII) than First Degree Kidnapping (Level X), the First Degree Assault is scored counting the prior Third Degree Assault as adult criminal history. This calculation would result in an offender score of one and a sentence range of 102 to 136 months. Next, the First Degree Kidnapping convictions are scored using a criminal history of zero. These calculations result in two sentence ranges of 51 to 68 months. These three sentences would run consecutively.

Example: An offender was convicted of one count of Third Degree Assault. The offender's criminal history consisted of adult convictions for Second Degree Theft and Forgery and one adjudication of Second Degree Assault as a juvenile. In this case the rules of RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a) apply. The prior Second Degree Theft and Forgery are included in the offender score as one point each, and the juvenile Second Degree Assault also scores as one point, resulting in an offender score of three points. The sentence range is 9 to 12 months.

SCORING OFFENDER STATUS WHILE ON COMMUNITY PLACEMENT

The offender score also reflects whether the offense was committed while the offender was under community placement. RCW 9.94A.360(17) applies to crimes committed on or after July 1, 1988. An additional point is added to the score under these circumstances.

STEP 3 - DETERMINING THE STANDARD SENTENCE RANGE

SENTENCING GRID

Once the offense seriousness level has been determined and the offender score has been calculated, the presumptive standard sentence range may be identified.

Determine the standard sentence range by referring to the sentencing grid (RCW 9.94A.310, Table 1, page I-2). For each current offense, the intersection of the column defined by the offender score and the row defined by the offense seriousness level determines the standard sentence range. Alternatively, the same range is identified for individual offenses on the offense reference sheets in Section III of this manual. The court may impose a sentence anywhere within this range. In those cases where the presumptive sentence exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the crime, the statutory maximum sentence is the presumptive sentence (RCW 9.94A.420), as shown on the offense reference sheets in Section III of this manual.

If the crime was committed on or after July 25, 1999, Table 1 in Section I of this manual should be used to determine the sentence.

If the crime was committed on or after July 27, 1997 and before July 25, 1999, Sentencing Grid C in Appendix D should be used to determine the sentence.

If the crime was committed on or after July 1, 1990 and before July 27, 1997, Sentencing Grid B in Appendix D should be used to determine the sentence.

If the crime was committed prior to July 1, 1990, use Sentencing Grid A in Appendix D.

ANTICIPATORY OFFENSES (Attempts, Conspiracies and Solicitations)

The standard sentence range for persons convicted of an anticipatory offense (criminal attempt, solicitation or conspiracy) is 75 percent of the standard sentence range, determined by using the offender score and offense seriousness level (RCW 9.94A.410). To simplify calculations, refer to the anticipatory offense grid in Table 3 below:

ATTEMPTS, CONSPIRACIES AND SOLICITATIONS TO VIOLATE THE UNIFORMED CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES ACT (“VUCSA” OFFENSES)

The sentencing of anticipatory VUCSA drug offenses (RCW 69.50) is more complicated than sentencing of anticipatory offenses under RCW 9A.28.

An attempt or conspiracy to commit a drug offense is specifically addressed in RCW 69.50.407, which states that such offenses are punishable by "...imprisonment or fine or both which may not exceed the maximum punishment prescribed for the offense..." The appellate courts have consistently held that for VUCSA offenses, RCW 69.50.407 takes precedence over RCW 9A.28. Although current statute and case law should be reviewed for definitive guidance in this area, the following reflects current sentencing practices:

An attempt or conspiracy to commit a drug offense is typically sentenced as an “unranked” offense (0-12 months) following state case law. In State v. Mendoza, the Court of Appeals held that “inasmuch as a conspiracy conviction under RCW 69.50.407 has no sentencing directions from the Legislature, it is punished under the unspecified crimes provisions of RCW 9.94A.120(7).” 63 Wn. App. 373 (1991).

A solicitation to commit a drug offense is not specifically addressed in RCW 69.50. It is usually charged under RCW 9A.28 and sentenced under RCW 9.94A.310(2) at 75 percent of the standard range. Solicitations to commit VUCSA offenses are not considered “drug offenses” and are not subject to the multiple “scoring” requirement or to the community placement requirement for drug offenses. See In re Hopkins, 137 Wn.2d 897 (1999).

A solicitation to commit a Class C felony is a gross misdemeanor under RCW 9A.28.

FELONY TRAFFIC ENHANCEMENT

The 1998 Legislature added a two-year enhancement to the presumptive sentence for Vehicular Homicide while Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or any Drug, under RCW 46.61.502. A two-year enhancement is added for each prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.5055⁷. The enhancement portion is subject to earned release time.

⁷ RCW 46.61.5055(11): A “prior offense” means any of the following:

- (i) A conviction of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or equivalent local ordinance;
- (ii) A conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.504 or an equivalent local ordinance;
- (iii) A conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.520 committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug;
- (iv) A conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.522 committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug;
- (v) A conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.5249 or an equivalent local ordinance, if the conviction is the result of a charge that was originally filed as a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or RCW 46.61.504, or an equivalent local ordinance, or of RCW 46.61.520 or RCW 46.61.522;
- (vi) An out-of-state conviction for a violation that would have been a violation of (a)(i), (ii), (iii), (iv), or (v) of this subsection if committed in this state;
- (vii) A deferred prosecution under chapter 10.05 RCW granted in a prosecution for a violation of RCW 46.61.502, RCW 46.61.504, or an equivalent local ordinance; or
- (viii) A deferred prosecution under chapter 10.05 RCW granted in a prosecution for a violation of RCW 46.61.5249, or an equivalent local ordinance, if the charge under which the deferred prosecution was granted was originally filed as a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or RCW 46.61.520 or RCW 46.61.522.

DEADLY WEAPON ENHANCEMENT

For specified crimes, if a court makes a finding of fact or a jury returns a special verdict that the accused or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of the commission of the crime, the sentence must be increased.

The deadly weapon sentence enhancement also applies to anticipatory offenses, which include attempts, conspiracies and solicitations to commit a crime (RCW 9.94A.310(3),(4)). Additional time under a deadly weapon enhancement is added to the sentence after it has been calculated based on the particular seriousness level and the offender score (RCW 9.94A.370), and after the range adjustment for any anticipatory offense (if appropriate).

Initiative 159, "Hard Time for Armed Crime," was passed during the 1995 legislative session and became effective for offenses committed after July 23, 1995. This initiative increased penalties and expanded the range of crimes eligible for weapon enhancements. Enhancements apply to all felonies except where the use of a firearm is an element of the offense (Possession of a Machine Gun, Possession of a Stolen Firearm, Drive-by Shooting, Theft of a Firearm, Unlawful Possession of a Firearm in the First and Second Degrees and Use of a Machine Gun in a Felony). If the court makes a finding of fact or the jury returns a special verdict that the accused or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon⁸ at the time of the commission of the crime, a deadly weapon enhancement is added to the standard sentence range. The weapon enhancements for firearms differ from enhancements for deadly weapons other than firearms. For scoring, see page III-18 and III-19 for the weapon enhancement scoring forms, including for offenses committed prior to July 24, 1995. If the presumptive standard range sentence exceeds the statutory maximum for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence becomes the presumptive sentence, unless the offender is a persistent offender, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(29). The 1998 Legislature required that if the firearm enhancement or the deadly weapon enhancement increases a sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced. As a result, in such a case the underlying sentence must be reduced so that the total confinement time does not exceed the statutory maximum. This takes effect for crimes committed on or after June 11, 1998.

⁸ RCW 9.94A.125 provides: Deadly Weapon means "...an implement or instrument which has the capacity to inflict death and from the manner in which it is used, is likely to produce or may easily and readily produce death. The following instruments are included in the term deadly weapon: Blackjack, sling shot, billy, sand club, sandbag, metal knuckles, any dirk, dagger, pistol, revolver, or any other firearm, any knife having a blade longer than three inches, any razor with an unguarded blade, any metal pipe or bar used or intended to be used as a club, any explosive, and any weapon containing poisonous or injurious gas."

B	36 Months	72 Months
C	18 Months	36 Months
OTHER DEADLY WEAPON
Class	First Offense	Repeat Offender
A	24 Months	48 Months
B	12 Months	24 Months
C	6 Months	12 Months

*All firearm and other deadly weapon enhancements are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other additional firearm or other deadly weapon enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under RCW 9.94A.310.

If an offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the firearm enhancement or enhancements must be added to the total period of confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to a firearm enhancement.

DRUG-RELATED ENHANCEMENTS

Enhancements to the presumptive range are required for certain drug offenses that occur in a protected zone (RCW 9.94A.310(6)) or in correctional facilities (RCW 9.94A.310(5)).

Protected Zone

If an offender is sentenced for committing certain drug offenses in a protected zone, 24 months are added to the presumptive sentence, and the maximum imprisonment and fine are doubled (RCW 69.50.435).⁹ These protected zones are as follows:

- In a school or on a school bus;
- Within 1,000 feet of a school bus route stop or a school ground perimeter;
- In a public park;
- On a public transit vehicle or at a public transit stop;

⁹ Drug offenses include violations of RCW 69.50.401(a): manufacturing, selling, delivering, or possessing with intent to manufacture, sell or deliver a controlled substance; and RCW 69.50.410: Selling for profit any controlled substance or counterfeit substance classified in schedule I, RCW 69.50.204, except leaves and flowering tops of marijuana.

- At a civic center or public housing project designated as a drug-free zone by the local governing authority; or
- Within 1,000 feet of the perimeter of a facility designated as a civic center, if the local governing authority specifically designates the 1,000-foot perimeter.

When a convicted drug offender is subject to both RCW 69.50.435 (which doubles the maximum sentence that may be imposed for a drug offense committed in or near a public place or facility as specified by the statute) and RCW 9.94A.310(3) (which mandates enhanced sentences for offenses committed while armed with a firearm), the maximum sentence on which to determine the length of firearm enhancement is the statutory maximum for the offenses as doubled by RCW 69.50.435. State v. Barajas, 88 Wn. App 387 (1997).

Correctional Facility

If an offender or an accomplice committed certain violations of the Uniform Controlled Substance Act (VUCSA) while in a county jail or state correctional facility, the following additional time is added to the presumptive sentence range:

Crime	Enhancement
Manufacture, Deliver, Possess with Intent to Deliver Heroin or Cocaine	18 Months
Manufacture, Deliver, Possess with Intent to Deliver Schedule I or II Narcotics (Except Heroin or Cocaine) or Flunitrazepam from Schedule IV	18 Months
Selling for Profit (Controlled or Counterfeit) Any Controlled Substance	18 Months
Deliver or Possess with Intent to Deliver Methamphetamine	18 Months
Manufacture of Methamphetamine	18 Months
Manufacture, Deliver, Possess with Intent to Deliver Amphetamine	18 Months
Manufacture, Deliver, Possess with Intent to Deliver Schedule III-V Narcotics or Schedule I-V Nonnarcotics (Except Marijuana, Amphetamine, Methamphetamine or Flunitrazepam)	15 Months
Manufacture, Deliver, Possess with Intent to Deliver Marijuana	15 Months
Possession of Controlled Substance that is either Heroin or Narcotics from Schedule I or II or Flunitrazepam from Schedule IV	12 Months
Possession of Phencyclidine (PCP)	12 Months
Possession of a Controlled Substance that is a Narcotic from Schedule III-V or Nonnarcotic from Schedule I-V (Except Phencyclidine)	12 Months

STEP 4 - DETERMINING THE SENTENCING OPTIONS

The sentencing options available to a court vary depending on the offender's criminal history and the crime(s) of conviction. The court must impose a determinate sentence¹⁰ in every case. The only exception to this requirement is for sentences imposed under the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA) (RCW 9.94A.120(8)(a)), which allows for suspended sentences.

The following discussion describes the standard sentence range, alternative sentencing options and supervision in the community. Sentencing options include the First-time Offender Waiver (FTOW), the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (DOSA), the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA), Work Ethic Camp (WEC), Work Crew, sentence enhancements, home detention and other alternative conversions. Please refer to individual offense reference sheets in Section III of this Manual for the sentencing options available for individual felonies.

TERMS OF CONFINEMENT

STANDARD SENTENCE RANGE

The sentencing grid determines the standard sentence range for the most commonly charged felonies. RCW 9.94A.420 states that if the presumptive sentence duration given in the sentencing grid exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence.

The ranges in the sentencing grid are expressed in terms of total confinement. A term of confinement of one year and one day (12+) is to be served in a state facility or institution. A term of one year or less is to be served in a county facility unless, when combined with other felony terms, the total time to be served exceeds one year (RCW 9.94A.190). For some offenders, a court may convert total confinement sentences to partial confinement or community service (see the discussion of alternative conversions, page I-38). Offenders who have received a sentence of greater than one year, and who also have received another sentence of less than one year, are to serve the entire period of time in a state institution.

“UNRANKED” CRIMES

For an offender convicted of an “unranked crime,” a crime without an established seriousness level, no standard sentence range applies. In these cases, a court is to impose a determinate sentence that may include not more than one year of confinement and may also require community service, legal financial obligations, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year and/or a fine. Sentences involving greater than one year of confinement are exceptional sentences and must be justified in writing (RCW 9.94A.120(7)).

PERSISTENT OFFENDERS

Initiative 593 ("Three Strikes and You're Out") was approved by the voters in 1993. It became effective December 2, 1993, and established the penalty of life in prison without the possibility of release for "persistent offenders."

"Three Strikes"

The original "Three Strikes" legislation defined a "persistent offender" as an offender who is convicted of a most serious offense and who has at least two prior convictions for most serious offenses, provided the first prior conviction occurred before the second prior conviction offense was committed. Initiative 593 mandates that persistent offenders be sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of release. A "most serious offense" is defined as any of a list of enumerated offenses (See RCW 9.94A.030(25)). In addition, the definition includes any Class B felony committed with sexual motivation and any felony committed with a deadly weapon.

"Two Strikes"

The definition of persistent offender also includes "Two Strike" sex offenders. To qualify as a persistent sex offender, an offender must have two separate convictions of specified sex offenses. The 1997 Legislature broadened the list of offenses that qualify as strikes under the "Two Strike" law. The specific offenses qualifying as "Two Strikes" are enumerated in RCW 9.94A.030(29)(b) and include: a) Rape First Degree, Rape Second Degree, Indecent Liberties by Forcible Compulsion, Rape of a Child First Degree (where the offender was age 16 or older at the time of the offense) Rape of a Child Second Degree (where the offender was 18 or older at the time the offense), Child Molestation in the First Degree; or b) Murder First Degree, Murder Second Degree, Kidnapping First Degree, Kidnapping Second Degree, Assault First Degree, Assault Second Degree, Burglary First Degree, Homicide by Abuse or Assault of a Child in the First Degree with a finding of sexual motivation; or c) an attempt to commit any of the crimes listed above. An offender convicted of one of these offenses, who has at least one previous conviction of one of these offenses, must be sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of release.

EXCEPTIONAL SENTENCES

The standard sentence range is presumed to be appropriate for the typical felony case. However, the law provides that in exceptional cases, a court has the discretion to depart from the standard sentence range and may impose an exceptional sentence. RCW 9.94A.120(2) states that the court "may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence."

An exceptional sentence must be a determinate sentence and cannot exceed the statutory maximum for the crime. In the case of the five crimes with statutory mandatory minimum sentences (Aggravated First Degree Murder, First Degree Murder, First Degree Assault, First Degree Assault of a Child and First Degree Rape), an exceptional sentence cannot go below these minimum terms of confinement (RCW 10.95.030 and RCW 9.94A.120(4)). Persistent offenders sentenced to life in prison are not eligible for exceptional sentences (RCW 9.94A.120(4)).

If a court imposes a sentence outside a standard range, it must set forth the reasons for its decision in written Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law (RCW 9.94A.120(3)). These procedures must also be followed if the court departs from the consecutive/concurrent policy in RCW 9.94A.400(1) and (2). Exceptional sentences may be appealed to the Court of Appeals by the defendant or by the prosecutor.

RCW 9.94A.390 provides a list of illustrative factors the court may consider in deciding whether to impose an exceptional sentence. These mitigating and aggravating circumstances for exceptional sentences are provided as examples to the court and are not intended to be exclusive reasons for departures:

Mitigating Circumstances for Exceptional Sentences

- To a significant degree, the victim was an initiator, willing participant, aggressor, or provoker of the incident.
- Before detection, the defendant compensated, or made a good faith effort to compensate, the victim of the criminal conduct for any damage or injury sustained.
- The defendant committed the crime under duress, coercion, threat, or compulsion insufficient to constitute a complete defense, but which significantly affected his or her conduct.
- The defendant, with no apparent predisposition to do so, was induced by others to participate in the crime.
- The defendant's capacity to appreciate the wrongfulness of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of the law was significantly impaired (voluntary use of drugs or alcohol is excluded).
- The offense was principally accomplished by another person, and the defendant manifested extreme caution or sincere concern for the safety or well-being of the victim.
- The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.400 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly excessive in light of the purpose of the Sentencing Reform Act, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

- The defendant or the defendant's children suffered a continuing pattern of physical or sexual abuse by the victim of the offense, and the offense is a response to that abuse.

Aggravating Circumstances for Exceptional Sentences

- The defendant's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty to the victim.
- The defendant knew or should have known that the victim of the current offense was particularly vulnerable or incapable of resistance due to extreme youth, advanced age, disability or ill health.
- The current offense was a major economic offense or series of offenses, so identified by a consideration of any of the following factors:
 - (a) The current offense involved multiple victims or multiple incidents per victim;
 - (b) The current offense involved attempted or actual monetary loss substantially greater than typical for the offense;
 - (c) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning, or occurred over a lengthy period of time; or
 - (d) The defendant used his or her position of trust, confidence or fiduciary responsibility to facilitate the commission of the current offense.
- The current offense was a major violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (VUCSA, RCW Chapter 69.50), related to trafficking in controlled substances, which was more onerous than the typical offense of its statutory definition. The presence of any of the following may identify an offense as a major VUCSA offense:
 - (a) The current offense involved at least three separate transactions in which controlled substances were sold, transferred, or possessed with intent to do so;
 - (b) The current offense involved an attempted or actual sale or transfer of controlled substances in quantities substantially larger than for personal use;
 - (c) The current offense involved the manufacture of controlled substances for use by other parties;
 - (d) The circumstances of the current offense reveal the offender to have occupied a high position in the drug distribution hierarchy;
 - (e) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning, or occurred over a lengthy period of time, or involved a broad geographic area of disbursement; or
 - (f) The offender used his or her position or status to facilitate the commission of the current offense, including positions of trust, confidence or fiduciary responsibility (e.g., pharmacist, physician or other medical professional).
- The current offense included a finding of sexual motivation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.127.

- The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of sexual abuse of the same victim under the age of 18 years, manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time.
- The current offense involved domestic violence, as defined in RCW 10.99.020 and one or more of the following was present:
 - (a) The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of psychological, physical, or sexual abuse of the victim manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time;
 - (b) The offense occurred within sight or sound of the victim's or offender's minor children under the age of eighteen years; or
 - (c) The offender's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty or intimidation of the victim.
- The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.400 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purpose of the Sentencing Reform Act, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.
- The defendant's prior unscored misdemeanor or prior unscored foreign criminal history results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purpose of the Sentencing Reform Act as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.
- The current offense was a violent offense, and the defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was pregnant.
- The offense resulted in the pregnancy of a child rape victim.
- The defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was a youth who was not residing with a legal custodian and the defendant established or promoted the relationship for the primary purpose of victimization.

CONSECUTIVE AND CONCURRENT SENTENCES

RCW 9.94A.400 identifies several rules regarding consecutive and concurrent sentences. Generally, sentences for multiple offenses set at one sentencing hearing are served concurrently unless there are two or more separate serious violent offenses or weapon offenses. In those cases, the sentences are served consecutively. In some cases, the decision to run the sentences consecutively or concurrently is discretionary, but in others, a departure from the policy requires an exceptional sentence. The specific rules are as follows:

Sentencing Persons Convicted of Multiple Offenses

Except for convictions of two or more separate serious violent offenses, deadly weapon enhancements and certain firearm-related sentences, all sentences for multiple offenses are served concurrently (RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a)). Convictions entered or sentenced on the same date as the conviction for which the offender score is being computed are deemed "other current offenses" within the meaning of RCW 9.94A.400.

Multiple Serious Violent Offenses

In the case of two or more serious violent offenses arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct, the sentences for these serious violent offenses are served consecutively to each other and concurrently with any other sentences imposed for current offenses (RCW 9.94A.400(1)(b)). A departure from this rule requires an exceptional sentence (RCW 9.94A.120(18)).

Certain Firearm-related Offenses

In the case of an offender convicted of Unlawful Possession of a Firearm in the First or Second Degree and for one or both of the crimes of Theft of a Firearm or Possession of a Stolen Firearm, the sentences for these crimes are served consecutively for each conviction of the felony crimes listed and for each firearm unlawfully possessed¹¹. A departure from this rule requires an exceptional sentence (RCW 9.94A.120(18)).

Weapon Enhancements

In the case of an offender receiving a deadly weapon enhancement for offenses committed after July 23, 1995, the deadly weapon enhancement portion of the standard range is served consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other firearm or deadly weapon enhancements (RCW 9.94A.310). A departure from this rule requires an exceptional sentence (RCW 9.94A.120(18)).

Felony Committed While Offender was Under Sentence for Another Felony

Whenever the current offense was committed while the offender was under sentence for a previous felony and the offender was sentenced under another term of imprisonment, the latter term may not begin until expiration of all prior terms (RCW 9.94A.400(2)). A departure from this rule requires an exceptional sentence (RCW 9.94A.120(18)).

Felonies Committed While Offender was not Under Sentence for Another Felony

Subject to the above policies, whenever a person was sentenced under a felony that was committed while the person was not under sentence of a felony, the sentence runs concurrently with felony sentences previously imposed by any court in this or another state or by a federal court, unless the court pronouncing the subsequent sentence expressly orders that they be served consecutively (RCW 9.94A.400(3)). This rule applies when offenders face multiple charges or have multiple convictions from different jurisdictions.

Probation Revocation

Whenever any person granted probation under RCW 9.95.210 or RCW 9.92.060, or both, has a probationary sentence revoked and a prison sentence imposed, this sentence runs consecutively to any sentence imposed, unless the court pronouncing the subsequent sentence expressly orders that they be served concurrently (RCW 9.94A.400(4)). This rule applies when offenders with a pre-Sentencing Reform Act case have their probation revoked and are also sentenced on a conviction for a crime committed after June 30, 1984.

Serving Total Confinement with Consecutive Sentences

In the case of consecutive sentences, all periods of total confinement must be served before any periods of partial confinement, community service, community supervision or any other requirement or condition of a sentence (RCW 9.94A.400(5)). This rule applies to offenders who have not completed their sentence requirements from a previous conviction and are sentenced to total confinement on a new offense.

LIMITS ON EARNED RELEASE

Aggregate earned release time may not exceed one-third of the total sentence. Earned release time may not exceed 15 percent of the sentence for offenses committed on or after July 1, 1990 that are Class A “serious violent” offenses or Class A sex offenses.

Offenders sentenced under the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (see below) are not eligible to accrue any earned release time while serving a suspended sentence.

An offender may not receive any earned release time for that portion of his or her sentence that results from any deadly weapon enhancements.

SENTENCING ALTERNATIVES

For some types of offenses and offenders, sentencing courts have discretion to order alternative sentences, including: (1) the First-time Offender Waiver (FTOW); (2) the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (DOSA); (3) the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA); and (4) Work Ethic Camp (WEC).

FIRST-TIME OFFENDER WAIVER (FTOW)

There is a statutory alternative to the standard range for certain first-time offenders (RCW 9.94A.120(5)). Offenders are eligible for the First-time Offender Waiver if they:

- Have not been convicted of a violent offense;
- Have not been convicted of Manufacture, Delivery, or Possession with Intent to Manufacture or Deliver a Schedule I or II Narcotic Drug, Flunitrazepam classified in Schedule IV or Methamphetamine;

- Have not been convicted of Selling for Profit any Controlled Substance or Counterfeit Substance;
- Have not been convicted of a sex offense;
- Have not previously been convicted of a felony in this state, federal court, another state or foreign country;
- Have never participated in a program of deferred prosecution for a felony offense; and
- Have no juvenile adjudication for any felony offense.

For these offenders, the court is given broad discretion in setting the sentence. Choices available to the court include:

- Imposing up to 90 days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county;
- Requiring that the offender refrain from committing new offenses;
- Requiring up to one year of community supervision which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions¹², may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:
 - (a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
 - (b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;
 - (c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;
 - (d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or a community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
 - (e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
 - (f) Pay all court-ordered financial obligations, and/or perform some community service work.

If an ongoing treatment program continues after the first year of the offender's community supervision, supervision may continue until the end of treatment. In total, community supervision under the First-time Offender Waiver may not exceed two years.

¹² RCW 9.94A.030(12) provides: "'Crime-related prohibition' means an order of a court prohibiting conduct that directly relates to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, and shall not be construed to mean orders directing an offender affirmatively to participate in rehabilitative programs or to otherwise perform affirmative conduct."

A court's decision to impose or not to impose the First-time Offender Waiver cannot be appealed by the prosecutor or defendant (RCW 9.94A.210(1)).

DRUG OFFENDER SENTENCING ALTERNATIVE (DOSA)

Effective July 25, 1999, all offenders convicted of a Violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (“VUCSA”) are eligible for the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (DOSA). Offenders convicted of attempt, solicitation or conspiracy to commit a VUCSA offense are also eligible. In addition, all other non-violent, non-sex offenders are eligible, if the court deems that the offender and the community would benefit from the use of the DOSA option.

For eligible offenders, the following conditions must be met:

- Standard sentence for the offense is more than one year (prison sentence);
- No current or prior sex offense;
- No current or prior violent offense;
- No current deadly weapon enhancement (prior weapon enhancements are allowed);
- Not subject to a federal INS deportation detainer or deportation order;
- The offense involved a small amount of drugs, as determined by the court; and
- The court determines that the community and the offender would benefit from the imposition of the alternative.

Chemical Dependency Screening Reports

Prior to sentencing, the court is required to order a chemical dependency screening report, to be completed by the Department of Corrections, for all offenders convicted of a VUCSA offense. The court may explicitly waive that requirement. The court may also, in its discretion, order a chemical dependency screening report for any other eligible, non-violent, non-sex offender whom the court finds has a chemical dependency that contributed to the crime. See RCW 9.94A.110.

Crime-Related Prohibitions, Affirmative Conditions, Violations and Sanctions

If the court elects to impose the DOSA alternative, the court imposes a sentence of one-half of the midpoint of the offender's standard range, to be served in a prison facility. The Department of Corrections provides assessment and appropriate treatment during the period of confinement. The court must also impose one year of community supervision, which must include appropriate outpatient substance abuse treatment, crime-related prohibitions and a requirement to submit to urinalysis or other testing to monitor compliance. The court is also required to impose at least three additional conditions from a list of allowed conditions of sentence. See RCW 9.94A.120(6)(b).

Not only may courts impose crime-related prohibitions on offenders sentenced to DOSA, but courts may now impose affirmative conditions reasonably related to the circumstances of the crime, including rehabilitative treatment programs. See RCW 9.94A.129. Offenders who violate the conditions of DOSA (including those offenders who successfully complete the prison portion of the program and have been placed on community custody for the remainder of their sentence) are subject to graduated sanctions, including termination and reclassification to serve the unexpired term of total confinement in prison.

Local Options for Chemically Dependent Offenders

Offenders whose standard range sentence amounts to one year or less are not eligible for DOSA and serve their confinement time in a local jail. However, courts are now permitted to authorize county jails to convert confinement time to a county-supervised community option for those offenders deemed to have a chemical dependency that contributed to the crime. In addition, courts may impose affirmative conditions on such chemically dependent offenders. See RCW 9.94A.380(3).

SPECIAL SEX OFFENDER SENTENCING ALTERNATIVE (SSOSA)

The Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA) is a special sentencing option allows community treatment of sex offenders. SSOSA provides for a suspended sentence that may include a jail term of up to six months and required outpatient or inpatient treatment (RCW 9.94A.120(8)(a)). Offenders sentenced under this alternative are not eligible to accrue earned release time while serving the suspended sentence. Examinations and treatment under SSOSA may only be conducted by sex offender treatment providers certified by the Department of Health, unless the offender leaves the state for reasons other than for certification, or if there are no certified providers available near the offender's home.

To be eligible for the SSOSA option, offenders must:

- Not be convicted of a serious violent offense with a sexual motivation finding, nor of Rape in the First Degree, nor of Attempted Rape in the First Degree nor of Rape in the Second Degree.
- Be convicted of a violation of RCW 9A.44, Incest (RCW 9A.64.020), Communication with a Minor for Immoral Purposes (RCW 9.68A.090) or an offense with a finding of sexual motivation.
- Have had no prior convictions for sex offenses in this or any other state.
- Have a current offense and criminal history that permits the court to impose a sentence within the standard range of less than 11 years of confinement.

If those criteria are met, the court, on its own motion or on the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine if the defendant is amenable to treatment. The examination report must include the following:

- The defendant's version of the facts and the official version of the facts;
- The defendant's offense history;
- An assessment of problems in addition to the alleged deviant behaviors;
- The defendant's social and employment situation; and
- Other evaluation measures used.

The examiner must assess the defendant's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan must be provided and must include, at a minimum:

- Frequency and type of contact between offender and therapist;
- Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;
- Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements and monitoring by family members and others;
- Anticipated length of treatment; and
- Recommended crime-related prohibitions.

Upon the motion of the state or the court, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment may be ordered. The defendant is to pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent, in which case the state pays the cost.

Once the examination report is received, the court determines whether the defendant and the community will benefit from use of this special sentencing alternative. The court also is to consider the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment sentence.

If a court decides to exercise the SSOSA option, the judge imposes a sentence within the standard sentence range, suspends execution of the sentence and orders the defendant to spend up to six months in confinement (not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense). SSOSA is the only sentencing option where suspended sentences are possible.

The court is required to order treatment during the suspended sentence for a period up to three years in duration. The court may order outpatient or inpatient treatment; however, a community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has a special sex offender treatment program. The offender cannot change sex offender treatment providers without first notifying the prosecutor, the community corrections officer and the court. In addition, the offender cannot change treatment providers without court approval if the prosecutor or community corrections officer object to the change.

Community Custody for SSOSA Offenders

As part of the SSOSA sentence, the court is required to place the offender on community custody for the length of the suspended sentence or three years, whichever is greater. The court may impose crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender:

- Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- Report as directed to the court and to a community corrections officer;
- Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations, perform some community service work or any combination thereof;
- Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.

Several options are available should the offender violate these sentence conditions. The court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the sentence or order up to 60 days in confinement. If a violation of conditions occurs during community custody, the Department of Corrections is authorized to return the offender to more restrictive confinement immediately. All confinement time served during the period of community custody is credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

During the period of treatment, the sex offender therapist must submit quarterly reports on the offender's treatment progress to the court and to the parties of record. At a minimum, the reports must reference the treatment plan and include the dates of attendance, offender's compliance with requirements, treatment activities, the offender's relative progress in treatment and any other material specified by the court at sentencing.

At the sentencing hearing, the court sets a treatment termination hearing three months prior to the anticipated date of treatment completion. The sex offender therapist and community corrections officer submit written reports to the court and to parties of record prior to this hearing. The reports must address the offender's compliance with treatment and monitoring requirements and must contain recommendations regarding termination from treatment, including proposed community custody conditions.

A second evaluation regarding the advisability of treatment termination may be requested by either party and ordered by the court. The cost must be borne by the offender unless the court finds the person to be indigent, in which case the state pays the cost.

As a result of the hearing, the court may modify the supervision conditions and must either terminate treatment or extend treatment for up to the remaining period of community custody.

Other Sex Offender Treatment in Prison

An inpatient sex offender treatment program is available for some other sex offenders. This program is not a sentencing option; offenders are admitted at the discretion of the Department of Corrections rather than by court order. The statutory authorization and procedures vary depending on the date the offender committed the crime. No authority exists for converting confinement time to community supervision for offenders who successfully complete the program.

For an offender who committed a felony sex offense between July 1, 1987 and July 1, 1990, and who received a sentence of more than one year but less than six years of confinement, a court may request the DOC to evaluate the offender's amenability to treatment, and the DOC may place the offender in a treatment program within a correctional facility. If the offender completes a program before the expiration of the sentence, the DOC may request that the balance of confinement be converted to community supervision (except for offenders convicted of Rape in the First or Second Degree or of the anticipatory offense of Rape in the First Degree). If the offender violates a condition of this community supervision, the court may impose a 60-day penalty or order the balance of community supervision to be served in prison.

Sex offenders who committed their crime prior to July 1, 1987 may request an evaluation by DOC regarding their amenability to treatment. If such amenability is determined, an offender may request placement in a treatment program within the prison, subject to available funding.

Community Custody for Sex Offenses Committed on or after June 6, 1996

A court is required to sentence sex offenders who commit sex offenses on or after June 6, 1996 to a term of community custody of three years or the period of earned release, whichever is longer. At any time prior to the completion of the terms of community custody, the court may extend any or all of the conditions of community custody for a period up to the length of the statutory maximum for the offense. If the victim was a minor child, a condition may be imposed prohibiting contact between the sex offender and the minor victim or a child of similar age or circumstance as a previous victim.

WORK ETHIC CAMP (WEC)

Effective July 25, 1999, offenders are eligible for the Work Ethic Camp if they:

- are sentenced to between 12+ months and 36 months of confinement;
- have no current drug offense (violation of the Uniform Controlled Substance Act, or "VUCSA"), including solicitation to commit a VUCSA offense;
- have no current or prior violent or sex offense convictions;

- are not subject to an INS deportation detainer or deportation order; and
- have not participated in Work Ethic Camp in the past.

For eligible offenders to be admitted to Work Ethic Camp, the sentencing court must refer them. The Department of Corrections is required to place referred offenders in the program, subject to capacity and to the offender's agreement to participate, unless physical or mental impairments are judged to preclude participation. The length of the program is between 120 and 180 days, including a two-week period of transition training. Upon completion of the program, offenders are released to complete the remainder sentence on community custody. Participants who fail to complete the program are required to serve the unexpired term of their sentence.

SUPERVISION IN THE COMMUNITY

The 1999 Legislature reformed the law related to the supervision of offenders in the community, to be effective July 1, 2000. The current system of supervision in the community, outlined below, includes “community supervision” and “community placement,” which also includes “community custody.” Effective July 1, 2000, all forms of supervision of offenders in the community will be “community custody.”

COMMUNITY SUPERVISION (effective until July 1, 2000)

For sentences of one year or less (jail sentences), and for a First-time Offender Waiver, a court may impose up to one year of community supervision. Community supervision is limited to 24 months for consecutive sentences (RCW 9.94A.400(5)). Community supervision must be imposed on the date of sentencing. This period of supervision is tolled while the offender is in total or partial confinement.

Community supervision under the First-time Offender Waiver may include rehabilitative conditions, which may include crime-related prohibitions.¹³ All community supervision for crimes committed on or after July 28, 1991 include a requirement that offenders cannot own, use or possess firearms or ammunition (RCW 9.94A.120(16)).

If a court finds that an offender has a chemical dependency that has contributed to his or her offense, the court may prohibit such use during community supervision, with regular monitoring by urinalysis or breathalyzer tests. The court may also impose affirmative conditions reasonably related to the circumstances of the crime, such as participation in drug and alcohol treatment, depending on available resources.

¹³ RCW 9.94A.030(12) provides: “‘Crime-related prohibition’ means an order of a court prohibiting conduct that directly relates to the circumstance of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, and shall not be construed to mean orders directing an offender affirmatively to participate in rehabilitative programs or to otherwise perform affirmative conduct.”

A court may, as part of community supervision, also order an offender to undergo a mental status evaluation and participate in available outpatient mental health treatment.

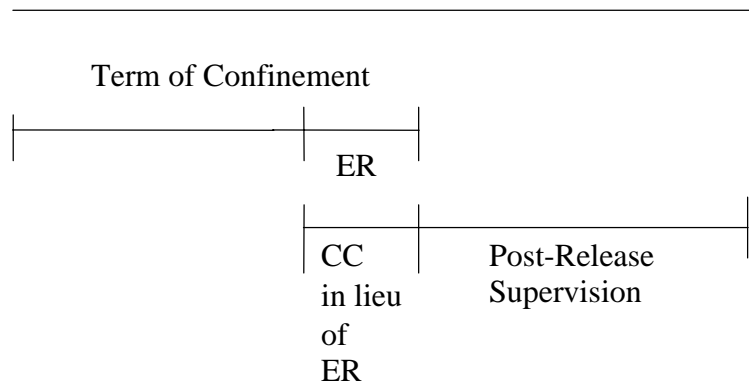

A court is permitted to require an offender to participate in a domestic violence perpetrator program if the offender has a minor child, or if the victim of the offense for which the offender was convicted has a minor child.

COMMUNITY PLACEMENT (effective until July 1, 2000)

The 1988 Legislature established community placement, a post-confinement supervision program for certain violent offenders, drug offenders and sex offenders. Community placement consists of two components: community custody and post-release supervision. Community placement begins upon completion of the confinement term or when an offender is transferred to community custody. If the offender is sentenced to the statutory maximum period of confinement, the community placement portion of the sentence consists entirely of the community custody to which the offender may become eligible. Any period of community custody actually served is to be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence.

A court may order an offender to undergo a mental status evaluation and to participate in available outpatient mental health treatment.

Community Custody

Community custody is that period of time an offender resides in the community under Department of Corrections (DOC) supervision, either in lieu of total confinement (e.g., as part of community placement) or under the terms of the sentence (e.g., as required by the terms of DOSA or SSOSA, or as a result of successfully completing Work Ethic Camp).

Community custody differs from community supervision in that offenders who violate terms or conditions of their DOC supervision may be sanctioned administratively by the DOC without a formal court hearing. Violations of sentence conditions are reviewed at an inmate disciplinary hearing conducted by the DOC. Sanctions may include transfer to a more restrictive confinement level. Any detention ordered is served either in a Department of Corrections or county facility, but if served in a county facility, it is the financial responsibility of the DOC (RCW 9.94A.207(2)). Depending on the basis for community custody, sanctions may include a return to prison for the remainder of the unexpired earned early release time, or for up to 60 days for each violation.

Offenders serving a sentence that includes community placement and who have earned early release time at the time of release from prison are placed on community custody for that portion of the community placement equal to their earned release time.

A mandatory period of community custody is required for all sex offenders sentenced for a sex offense committed on or after June 6, 1996. The required period of community custody is three years or the period of earned release time, whichever is longer. Sex offenders who are released from total confinement with less than three years of earned release are still required to serve a period of three years of community custody. This requirement applies to SSOSA and non-SSOSA offenders alike.

Offenders who successfully complete the Work Ethic Camp Program are placed on community custody for the remainder of their sentence.

Post-release Supervision

This period of supervision for an offender released from prison who has an additional period of community placement to serve, but who is not on community custody. This could happen, for instance, if the offender received no earned release credit, or if he or she had completed the community custody portion of the sentence. Offenders are entitled to a court hearing if they violate sentence conditions during the period of post-release supervision (as compared with DOC administrative proceedings for violations during the period of community custody). Sanctions may include up to 60 days for each violation, and detention time is served in a county jail.

Offenses Requiring Community Placement

Community placement for 12 months is a mandatory sentence condition for offenders sentenced to prison for the following offenses committed on or after July 1, 1988:

- any sex offense (committed before July 1, 1990);
- any serious violent offense (committed before July 1, 1990);
- Second Degree Assault;

- Crime against a person with a deadly weapon finding¹⁴ under RCW 9.94A.125;
- any felony offense under Chapter 69.50 (“VUCSA”) or 69.52 RCW; and
- Possession of a Machine Gun, Possession of a Stolen Firearm, Drive-by Shooting, Theft of a Firearm, Unlawful Possession of a Firearm 1° and 2°, Use of a Machine Gun in a Felony and any offense involving a deadly weapon special verdict under RCW 9.94A.125 may receive community placement at the discretion of the court¹⁵.

There is a mandatory two-year community placement sentence in addition to other terms of sentence for the following offenses if they were committed after June 30, 1990:

- any sex offense committed before June 6, 1996;
- any serious violent offense; or
- any Vehicular Homicide or Vehicular Assault committed on or after June 6, 1996.

There is a mandatory three-year community custody sentence in addition to other terms of sentence for any sex offense committed on or after June 6, 1996;

The 1999 Legislature mandated a one-year community placement sentence for the following categories of offenders:

- all violent offenders (for offenses committed on or after July 25, 1999); and
- all “crimes against persons,” defined in RCW 9.94A.440 (for offenses committed on or after July 25, 1999).

Community Placement Conditions

Unless the conditions are waived by the court, an offender on community placement must:

- Report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;
- Receive prior approval for living arrangements and residence location;

¹⁴ RCW 9.94A.125 provides: "...For purposes of this section, a deadly weapon is an implement or instrument which has the capacity to inflict death and from the manner in which it is used, is likely to produce or may easily and readily produce death. The following instruments are included in the term deadly weapon: Blackjack, sling shot, billy, sand club, sandbag, metal knuckles, any dirk, dagger, pistol, revolver, or any other firearm, any knife having a blade longer than three inches, any razor with an unguarded blade, any metal pipe or bar used or intended to be used as a club, any explosive, and any weapon containing poisonous or injurious gas."

¹⁵ RCW 9.94A.470 provides: "Notwithstanding the current placement of listing of categories or classifications of prosecuting standards for deciding to prosecute under RCW 9.94A.440(2), any and all felony crimes involving any deadly weapon special verdict under any and all felony crimes as defined in RCW 9.94A.310 (3)(f) or (4)(f), or both, which are excluded from the deadly weapon enhancement shall all be treated as crimes against a person and subject to the prosecuting standards for deciding to prosecute under RCW 9.94A.440(2) as crimes against a person."

- Be involved in Department of Corrections-approved education, employment and/or community service;
- Not possess or consume controlled substances that are not legally prescribed;
- Not own, use or possess firearms or ammunition;
- Pay supervision fees as determined by the Department of Corrections; and
- Submit to affirmative acts necessary to monitor compliance, such as polygraph or drug testing.

In addition to the above, a court may impose the following special conditions. The offender must:

- Remain within or outside specified geographical boundaries;
- Have no direct or indirect contact with the victim of the crime;
- Have no direct or indirect contact with a specified class of individuals (must be specified);
- Participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services;
- Consume no alcohol; and/or
- Comply with crime-related prohibitions.

Conditions of community placement may be changed prior to transfer or during supervision, but they cannot be made more restrictive. If an offender commits a new felony while on community placement, an additional point is added to the offender score, thus increasing the sentencing range for the new felony.

Community Custody (effective on and after July 1, 2000)

The Offender Accountability Act converted all community supervision and community placement to community custody, effective July 1, 2000. The changes aim at strengthening the law to hold offenders more accountable in the community and allow the Department of Corrections to intervene to prevent new offenses, supervising offenders based on their relative risk to community safety.

For offenses committed on or after July 1, 2000, “community custody” will be the only form of supervision, required for all sex offenses, all serious violent offenses, all violent offenses, all “crimes against persons” (defined in RCW 9.94A.440) and all felony drug offenses. Conditions of community custody and levels of supervision will be based on risk.

Courts will sentence offenders to a determinate period of confinement (as is the case today) and also to community custody for the period of the community custody range or for the period of earned release time, whichever is longer. Courts may impose conditions of supervision, including affirmative conditions such as rehabilitative treatment, which are reasonably related to the circumstances of the offense, to the risk of recidivism and to community safety. Offenders may not be discharged from community custody before the end of the period of earned release, but the Department of Corrections may discharge an offender between the end of the earned release and the end of the range specified by the court.

The Sentencing Guidelines Commission is required by the Legislature to establish community custody ranges for eligible offenses by December 31, 1999. The Legislature may adopt or modify the Commission's recommendations in the 2000 legislative session, but even if the Legislature does not act, the initial community custody ranges recommended by the Commission will become effective July 1, 2000. The Commission may propose annual modifications to the community custody ranges, but those subsequent modifications will require the enactment of a bill by the Legislature to become effective.

While on community custody, offenders will be subject to affirmative conditions from the court and from the Department of Corrections, and the Department will supervise offenders according to their risk. Violations of conditions of community custody will be sanctioned by the Department under a system of graduated sanctions, including confinement for up to 60 days. An appeals process for violations and sanctions will be established within the Department.

Effective July 1, 2000, the one-year term of community supervision for unranked felonies becomes a term of community custody. Effective July 25, 1999, offenders sentenced under the First-time Offender Waiver are required to be supervised in the community for one year, unless an ongoing treatment program continues after the first year, after which supervision ends with treatment. Such supervision cannot exceed two years.

ALTERNATIVES TO CONFINEMENT

ALTERNATIVE CONVERSIONS

The sentencing grid ranges are expressed in terms of total confinement (RCW 9.94A.370). For certain offenders, a court may convert terms of total confinement to partial confinement or to community service. This provision allows courts to take advantage of available alternatives to confinement in cases where it is deemed appropriate. If the court does not use an alternative conversion for a nonviolent offense with a sentence range of one year or less, the reason why must be stated on the Judgment and Sentence form (RCW 9.94A.380).

The 1999 Legislature modified the requirements for non-violent and non-sex offenders sentenced to one year or less. Where a court finds that a chemical dependency contributed to the crime, the court may authorize the county jail to convert jail confinement to an available county-supervised community option. The court may require the offender to perform affirmative conditions, such as rehabilitative treatment, which are reasonably related to the circumstances of the crime and are reasonably necessary or beneficial to the offender and to the community.

For all offenders with sentences of one year or less, one day of total confinement may be converted to one day of partial confinement. Non-violent offenders with sentences of one year or less are also eligible for conversion of total confinement to community service (one day of confinement equals eight hours of service). This community service conversion, however, is limited to 30 days or 240 hours. If a community service conversion is ordered, and the determinate sentence is greater than 30 days, the balance of the term is to be served in total or partial confinement.

Partial confinement sentences may allow the offender to serve the sentence in work release, home detention, work crew or a combination of work crew and home detention. If the offender violates the rules of the work release facility, work crew or home detention program, or fails to remain employed or enrolled in school, the facility director may have the offender transferred to the county detention facility. The offender may then request an administrative hearing. Pending the hearing, or in the absence of a request for such a hearing, the offender shall serve the remainder of the term of confinement in total confinement (RCW 9.94A.180).

WORK CREW

Work crew is a partial confinement option created by the 1991 Legislature. Offenders who qualify must have committed the offense on or after July 28, 1991. The offense may not be a sex offense.¹⁶ For offenses committed before July 25, 1993, the offender must be sentenced to a facility operated or utilized under contract by a county (i.e., the sentence must be one year or less in length); this restriction does not apply to offenses committed after that date. If the sentence is 9 months or more, at least 30 days of total confinement must be served before becoming eligible for work crew. Work crew may be simultaneously imposed with electronic home detention. Work crew hours served may include work on civic improvement tasks, substance abuse counseling, job skills training or a maximum of 24 hours per week at approved, verified work.

To be eligible to receive credit for approved, verified work, offenders must first successfully complete 4 weeks of work crew, each week comprised of 35 hours of service. Work crew projects specified by the work crew supervisor must be completed in coordination with approved, verified work. Unless exempted by the court, offenders using approved, verified employment as part of their work crew hours must pay a monthly supervision assessment.

¹⁶ RCW 9.94A.030(36) provides: "'Sex offense' means: (a) A felony that is a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW, other than RCW 9A.44.130(10), or RCW 9A.64.020 or 9.68A.090 or a felony that is, under chapter 9A.28 RCW, a criminal attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit such crimes; (b) Any conviction for a felony offense in effect at any time prior to July 1, 1976, that is comparable to a felony classified as a sex offense in (a) of this subsection; (c) A felony with a finding of sexual motivation under RCW 9.94A.127 or 13.40.135; (d) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a sex offense under (a) of this subsection."

HOME DETENTION

Home detention is a partial confinement option in which an offender is confined to a private residence and subject to electronic surveillance. The option was created by the 1988 Legislature and is available for offenders convicted of crimes committed on June 9, 1988 or later. Because partial confinement programs are limited to sentences of one year or less, home detention is not an option for offenders with prison sentences.

Convictions for any of the following offenses make the offender ineligible for home detention: a violent offense, a sex offense, a drug offense, First or Second Degree Reckless Burning, Third Degree Assault, Third Degree Assault of a Child, Unlawful Imprisonment or Harassment.

Eligibility for home detention is conditioned upon (a) employment or school attendance, (b) program rules adherence, and (c) compliance with court-ordered legal financial obligations (RCW 9.94A.185(2)).

Home detention may be imposed for offenders convicted of Possession of a Controlled Substance (RCW 69.50.401(d)) or of Forged Prescription for a Controlled Substance (RCW 69.50.403), providing the offender is monitored for drug use.

Offenders convicted of Second Degree Burglary or Residential Burglary must meet the following eligibility conditions for home detention: (a) successful completion of a twenty-one day work release program; (b) no convictions for Second Degree Burglary or Residential Burglary during the preceding two years and not more than two prior convictions for burglary; (c) no convictions for a violent felony offense during the preceding two years and not more than two prior convictions for a violent felony offense; (d) no prior charges of escape; and (e) fulfillment of the other conditions of the home detention program.

Home detention may also be ordered for offenders whose medical or health-related conditions, concerns or treatment would be better addressed under the home detention program, or where the health and welfare of the offender, other inmates or staff would be jeopardized by the offender's incarceration. Participation in the home detention program for medical or health-related reasons is conditioned on the offender abiding by the rules of the home detention program and complying with court-ordered legal financial obligations.

RESTITUTION

A court must order restitution whenever a felony results in injury to a person or damage or property loss. If restitution is not ordered, the court must indicate the extraordinary reasons on the record (RCW 9.94A.120(19)).

Restitution may also be ordered to pay for an injury, loss or damage if the offender pleads guilty to a lesser offense or fewer offenses and agrees with the prosecutor's recommendation that he or she pay restitution for any offenses not prosecuted pursuant to a plea agreement.

Restitution is based on three factors:

- Easily ascertainable damages for injury to or loss of property;
- Actual expenses incurred in treatment for injury to persons; and
- Lost wages resulting from injury.

Restitution for the crimes of Rape of a Child in the First, Second or Third Degree, in which the victim becomes pregnant, must include:

- Victims' medical expenses associated with the rape; and
- Support for any child born as a result of the rape, if child support is ordered.

Restitution may not include reimbursement for damages for mental anguish, pain and suffering and other intangible losses, but may include reimbursement for counseling reasonably related to the offense. The amount of restitution may not exceed double the amount of the offender's gain or the victim's loss from the commission of the crime.

Restitution is to be determined at the sentencing hearing or within 180 days. As part of the sentence, the court must set the terms and conditions under which the defendant makes restitution. It is required that the court be specific about the payment schedule for restitution, so that these sentence conditions may be appropriately monitored by the community corrections officer. The court may not reduce the total amount of restitution ordered.

An offender's compliance with the restitution requirement may be supervised for ten years after the date of sentence or release from confinement. The restitution portion of a sentence may be modified as to amount, terms and conditions during this period regardless of the community supervision term and the statutory maximum of the crime. A court may extend the restitution requirement for a second ten-year period.

Restitution for victims is the first priority for payment by an offender.

CASES INVOLVING FRAUD OR DECEPTIVE PRACTICE

If an offender or organization is found guilty of an offense involving fraud or other deceptive practice, a court may require that notice be given to the class of persons or sector of the public affected by the conviction or financially interested in the subject matter of the offense. The notice may be accomplished by mail, by advertising through designated media, or by other appropriate means (RCW 9.94A.142(5), RCW 9.94A.140(4)).

FINES

On all sentences for felony offenses, a court may impose fines according to the following ranges (RCW 9.94A.386):

Class A felonies	$0 - $50,000
Class B felonies	$0 - $20,000
Class C felonies	$0 - $10,000

Unless the court finds the offender to be indigent, every person convicted of certain VUCSA violations (RCW 69.50.401, 69.50.402, 69.50.403, 69.50.406, 69.50.407, 69.50.410, 69.50.415) shall be fined $1,000 in addition to any other fine or penalty imposed. This fine increases to $2,000 if the violation is a second or subsequent violation of one of the laws specified.

When a fine is imposed for Manufacture, Delivery or Possession with Intent to Manufacture or Deliver Methamphetamine, or for Possession of Ephedrine or Pseudo Ephedrine with Intent to Manufacture Methamphetamine, the first $3,000 may not be suspended and must be provided to the law enforcement entity responsible for cleaning up the methamphetamine lab site.

OTHER LEGAL FINANCIAL OBLIGATIONS

The Sentencing Reform Act allows a court to impose several additional monetary obligations. These include:

- Court costs, including reimbursement for extradition costs (RCW 9.94A.030(11));
- Defense attorney's fees and defense costs (RCW 9.94A.030(11));
- Contributions to a county or interlocal drug fund (RCW 9.94A.030(11));
- Crime victims' compensation assessment (RCW 7.68.035);
- Recoupment to the victim for the cost of counseling as a result of the offender's crime, in cases where the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative is exercised (RCW 9.94A.120(8)(a)(ii)(B));
- Payment for the cost of incarceration, at the rate of $50 per day; and/or
- Payment of up to $1,000 in costs incurred by public agencies in an emergency response to the incident that resulted in conviction for Vehicular Assault or Vehicular Homicide by being under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or Any Drug.

All such monetary obligations, except probationer assessments, are monitored by the Department of Corrections (DOC) for up to ten years after the last date of release from confinement or the date the sentence was entered (RCW 9.94A.120(13)). The court may extend its jurisdiction an additional ten years.

A court must designate the total amount of a legal financial obligation, distinguishing a separate assessment for restitution, costs, fines and other assessments. This designation must appear on the Judgment and Sentence form or on a subsequent order to pay, and must include the required schedule for monthly payment. If the court fails to set the monthly payment amount, the DOC sets the amount.

In order to assist the court in setting the monthly payment sum, the offender must truthfully report to the DOC regarding earnings, property and assets, and must supply requested documentation.

The DOC may recommend to the court modifications in the payment schedule if the offender's financial circumstances change during the period of supervision. In cases where the DOC sets the monthly assessment amount, the DOC may modify the monthly assessment without consulting the court.

Civil action for collection of unpaid legal financial obligations may be initiated by the DOC or by any obligee. Such collection is effected through a wage assignment process. (See RCW 9.94A.145(3) and 9.94A.2001.)

CONTACT WITH INDIVIDUALS

A court may prohibit an offender from having contact with specified individuals or a specific class of individuals for a period not to exceed the maximum allowable sentence for the crime, regardless of the expiration of the community supervision or community placement term. The order prohibiting contact must relate directly to the circumstances of the crime of conviction (RCW 9.94A.120(20)).

STEP 5 - REVIEW OF SENTENCES

A sentence within the standard range cannot be appealed (RCW 9.94A.210). However, a sentence outside the standard range is subject to appeal by the defendant or by the prosecutor. To reverse a sentence that is outside the sentence range, the Court of Appeals must find that:

- The reasons supplied by the sentencing judge were not supported by the record, or they do not justify a sentence outside the range; or
- The sentence imposed was clearly excessive or clearly too lenient.

The Department of Corrections may request a review of a sentence committing an offender to the custody or jurisdiction of the department. This review must be limited to errors of law and must be filed with the Court of Appeals no later than 90 days after the Department has actual knowledge of the term of the sentence. The Department must certify that all reasonable efforts to resolve the dispute at the Superior Court level have been exhausted.

STEP 6 - PENALTY AND MODIFICATION HEARING

If an offender violates any sentence condition or requirement, the court may modify its judgment and sentence according to the rules in RCW 9.94A.200. The court, upon motion of the state or upon its own motion, must first require the offender to show cause why he or she shall not be punished for the non-compliance. A summons or arrest warrant may be issued by the court for the offender's appearance.

If a court finds that a violation of sentence conditions or requirements has occurred, it may order the offender confined for a period not to exceed 60 days for each violation. The court may: (1) convert a partial confinement term to total confinement; (2) convert community service to total or partial confinement; or (3) convert monetary obligations (except restitution and the crime victim penalty assessment) to community service hours by calculating the obligation into hours using the state minimum wage as a calculation basis.

Any time served in confinement awaiting the hearing must be credited against any confinement order. If a court finds that a violation was not willful, the court may modify its previous order regarding payment of legal financial obligations and community service obligations. In all cases, escape charges may also be filed if appropriate.

STEP 7 - DISCHARGE AND VACATION OF CONVICTION RECORD

DISCHARGE

When an offender completes his or her sentence requirements, the Department of Corrections must notify the sentencing court in accordance with RCW 9.94A.220. The court then discharges the offender and provides him or her with a certificate of discharge. This certificate restores all civil rights lost upon conviction. It is not, however, based on a finding of rehabilitation.

Following discharge, the offender's prior record may be used to determine the sentence for any later convictions and may also be used in later criminal prosecution as an element of an offense or for impeachment purposes.

VACATION OF CONVICTION RECORD

Every offender discharged under the above provision may apply to the sentencing court for a vacation of the conviction record as provided in RCW 9.94A.230. The offender's record cannot be cleared if:

- Any criminal charges are pending against the offender in any court in this state, another state or federal court;
- The offense was a violent offense (as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(41));

- The offense was a crime against persons (as defined in RCW 43.43.830);
- The offender has been convicted of a new crime in this state, another state or federal court since the date of the offender's discharge;
- The offense was a Class B felony, and less than ten years have passed since the date the applicant was discharged; or
- The offense was a Class C felony, and less than five years have passed since the date the applicant was discharged.

If the offender meets these tests, the court may clear the record of conviction by:

- Permitting the offender to withdraw his/her guilty plea and to enter a plea of not guilty; or
- Setting aside the guilty verdict, if the offender was convicted after a plea of not guilty; and
- Dismissing the information or indictment against the offender.

Once the court vacates a record of conviction, the offender's conviction may not be included in the offender's criminal history for purposes of determining a sentence in any subsequent conviction, and the offender must be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offenses. For all purposes, including responding to questions on employment applications, an offender whose record of conviction has been vacated may state that he or she has never been convicted of that crime. However, a vacated conviction record may be used as an element of a crime in a later criminal prosecution for a limited number of offenses whose classification as a felony requires proof of a prior conviction (e.g., Communication with a Minor for Immoral Purposes).

The sentencing guidelines allow automatic "wash-out" of prior convictions that meet the requirements of vacation of conviction. This policy allows offenders who do not formally apply to the court to have eligible offenses excluded from their criminal history in subsequent convictions. (See page I-10 for further discussion of this policy.)
